SUBJECT

: Commendation -

1. A recommendation for action on the part of the DDCI is contained in paragraph 4 of this memorandum.

2. Two significant achievements during the abortive coup in Saigon on 11-12 November 1960 were the maintenance of the pro-Western status of the Government of Vietnam and the prevention of a bloody civil war between rival pro-Western military factions which would have only benefited the Communists. Due credit for the favorable conclusion of this incident is attributable in part to the efforts of Saigon Station employees who displayed throughout a high degree of professionalism, initiative and courageous performance.

[redacted] voluntarily made various extended trips by auto through the city at the height of the coup when such travel was known to be dangerous to his person and remained calm, poised and efficient during these missions. Two of these services have stated their appreciation for [redacted] assistance and his attempts to keep them abreast of the situation and have reciprocated with timely exchange of intelligence information.
